

Workshop

Harvesting Woodfuel from your Farm

Thursday 16th April 2015

Organic Research Centre, Wakelyns Agroforestry, Fressingfield, Suffolk IP21 5SD

10am till 3.30pm

The aim of the day will be to explore and discuss the feasibility of harvesting woodfuel from existing linear landscape features such as hedgerows and from new agroforestry systems. The day will feature contributions from Rob Wolton (Devon Hedge Group), Sid Cooper (Forestry Commission) and Kathleen Bervoets (Agrobeheercentrum eco2, Belgium) and showcase the results from the hedge harvesting machinery trials conducted by The Organic Research Centre. The workshop will include a farm tour so please bring appropriate footwear and clothing!

This workshop is being organised as part of the EU funded project TWECOM 'Towards Eco-Energetic Communities' (<http://www.twecom.eu/>). The aim of this project is to demonstrate that local short chain systems using biomass from landscape elements for local energy or heat production is economically feasible whilst taking into account any ecological, social and cultural constraints.

We are asking for £10 + VAT (£12 Inc. VAT) to cover lunch and refreshments. To reserve your place please complete the attached booking form and return it to: gillian.w@organicresearchcentre.com or Gillian Woodward, The Organic Research Centre, Elm Farm, Hamstead Marshall, RG20 OHR by Monday 6th April.

Places are limited and will be allocated on a first come first served basis.
