RESEARCH COMMUNICATIONS OFFICER (G6)

Salary range: £25,250 - £31,750 per annum depending on experience

REF: RES2301

The Organic Research Centre is the UK's leading independent research centre focusing on the development and promotion of sustainable, agroecological solutions to food, farming and environmental issues. ORC is a registered charity with ca. 25 staff and funded primarily by project grants and contracts, from government, EU and foundation sources, as well as voluntary donations.

We are looking to appoint a Research Communications Officer (G6) on a 12-month fixed-term contract with the possibility of extension. The role involves leading on initiatives to translate research findings into clear guidance and decision support for farmers and other stakeholders. You will be able to demonstrate proven experience of research communications and a background in the farming and food sector. You will:

- Design and develop digital/online tools and information products based on research project findings
- Design infographics and other data visualisation as part of online content and research outputs
- Assist with ongoing knowledge exchange activities and events.

If you are an enthusiastic team player, methodical and with good attention to detail, and committed to advancing organic and sustainable farming then this could be the job for you. Much of ORC's team and research is spread over a wide geographical area so you need to be willing to travel as well as able to work remotely and independently. You will have the opportunity to gain experience of the whole research process and contribute to systems that increase the effectiveness of the research and knowledge exchange team.

We look forward to receiving your application, which must be made using the ORC application form. Further details can be downloaded from the Organic Research Centre website (www.organicresearchcentre.com).

The closing date for applications is 17.00 on Friday 19th May 2023. Interviews will be held via Microsoft Teams in the period 26th—31st May 2023.
